

The WGEA report takes an inordinate amount of time for organisations to complete. The portal is notoriously temperamental and slow.

I strongly believe that the process needs to be streamlined. At present, due to the pressure stress and burden this reporting places on organisations; it is seen as just another compliance requirement to meet with unfortunately no benefit to be gained.